

Designed for Remote Team Environments

Automatically track daily athlete location, monitor in real time athlete illness symptoms, health and wellness metrics. Monitor and review athlete training and recovery in real time any where in the world.

Data Communication

Your entire team is on the same page, no need for sending emails to review data, your team data is in one central location for all decision makers.

Reducing Admin Time

No need for your performance staff to filter through countless spreadsheets, Arc analyses this data exactly how your team needs it and delivers key information to the decision makers in real time. The Arc Platform can reduce admin time by 30-50%.

Better, Faster, More Informed Decisions

Lumin Sports Arc platform consumes multiple complex data points collected in the team or organisation and delivers comprehensible insights to key decision makers in real time.

Athlete Focused

We know that the best way to gather rich data is to make the athlete feel a part of the data collection and decision-making process. Our tools give the athlete the ability to view and analyse their own data on Arc, increasing team cohesion and improving athlete compliance.

Arc

Arc is our flagship data visualisation platform. Providing access to high performance tools specifically built for your team. Using integrations and data from Arc Mobile, Arc presents key insights to decision makers so that faster and more accurate decisions can be made.
